BOYAL RECEPTION.

A largely attended reception was tendered Mrs. Hays and little son, Jefferson Davis, Jr., and other distingulabed guests in the parlors of the Grand Windson from 4 to 6 ip. m. The lady is very sweet and gracious in her manners and of fine personal appearance. She acknowledged the warm reception given her with a womanly grace and toyal appreciation that won all hearts. Master Jefferson is a true scion of this noble house, bowing with manly diggity to the ovation tendered him. He divided favors during the day between the speeches and the Indians.
